I AM sending out statements this month and will expect all who receive them to call at my office and settle accounts to date. If I am not in my office, please pay Dr. Pennington. R. A. Jones, D. D. S.

NEW BUTCHER SHOP.—James H. Pepples opened this morning a butcher shop in the cellar of the Myers House, where he asks his friends to call and patronize him. He is splendidly fixed up to serve the public and with his large relationship and personal following should do well. James Davis, an experienced meat man, will cut for him.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Kentucky Classical and Business College, North Middletown, Milton Elliott, A. M., president. Mr. Elliott is well known in this section, where he taught school a number of years, and his present educational institution is one of the best of its kind in the State. The aim of this college is to prepare boys either for college or practical life.

MERCHANT ROBERT ROBINSON will probably move his mercantile business from Stanford and occupy the Gibson building in the Farmer's Bank block.—Somerset Journal. Wrong, Brer Campbell. Mr. Robert Robinson is going to open a store in Somerset but he will not move his business from Stanford for the simple reason that he has no mercantile business to move. The store here belongs to Mr. Sam Robinson, who is doing too well to think of leaving the best town on the map.

DUNN.—J. Harvey Dunn died suddenly at Brodhead at 5 o'clock Saturday morning of typhoid fever, aged 33. He is survived by a wife, whom he married barely six months ago, an aged mother, a sister and several brothers. The death was a severe shock, not only to the family but to Mr. Dunn's legion of friends, for there was no more popular young man in Central Kentucky than this splendid gentleman. Honest, honorable, a friend in all the word implies, there are many who are made sad by his untimely death. Mr. Dunn was a member of the firm of Dunn & Hamm and was an active, upright business man. His partner told us Saturday that he never saw a more straightforward, gentlemanly man than Mr. Dunn and that he had the implicit confidence of not only his patrons, but of the community at large. His death is an exceedingly sad one and the writer, while feeling keenly the loss of a good friend, deeply sympathizes with the widow and family in their great grief. The remains were taken to Danville Sunday and yesterday afternoon were laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery by the side of the aged father, who preceded him to the grave only a few short months. The Masons, of which order Mr. Dunn was a member, had charge of the funeral obsequies.

CORMNEY.—After a long illness of Bright's disease, Mr. Jake C. Cormney breathed his last at 11 o'clock Saturday night, surrounded by his devoted wife and brothers and the good woman who had been almost a mother to him.—Mrs. J. W. Ramsey, of the Bee Lick section. He was 37 years old and besides his wife is survived by two little daughters, Sarah and Mary Frances, aged six and four, respectively. Three brothers, Messrs. J. W., P. H. and Joseph J. Cormney, are also left to mourn the loss of as good a brother as a man ever had. Mr. Cormney was a devout member of the Methodist church, and having lived a consecrated, christian life he was prepared to meet his Maker. He was one of the few men who had never "sown wild oats," to his credit be it said. In fact he lived a quiet, Godly life and the worldly things were of no interest to him. That he is receiving the reward promised the truly faithful, we have every reason to believe and those who weep for him should find consolation in the blessed thought that their loss is his eternal gain. Rev. P. J. Ross preached a most appropriate funeral discourse at the home at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after which the remains were interred in Buffalo cemetery. Unbounded sympathy is felt for the widow and fatherless little girls, as well as the brothers and others who loved the deceased and who are now almost crushed by the loss they have sustained.

NOTICE.—Please call for your clothes as I bid Stanford farewell Aug. 21. J. B. Middleton, tailor.

THERE will be another $1.50 excursion to Cincinnati next Sunday. Train leaves depot here at 5 A. M.

MR. W. W. WRIGHT has been made Master of Trains to succeed W. J. Haylow, who has left the L. & N. Mr. Wright's many friends congratulate him on his deserved promotion.

THE fancy turnout in the Shetland pony ring at the Hustonville fair was very pretty indeed, and Master Carroll Reid Allen carried off the blue. Little Lucy Lee Walton, Mary Frye and Reid Conway rode with him.

THE Woodman's Picnic at Liberty Saturday was an enjoyable occasion and a large crowd was present. The game of base ball between Hustonville and Middleburg resulted in a victory for the former by a score of nine to three.

CORA EDMONDS, the white woman who was jailed at Hustonville Friday evening on the charge of disorderly conduct, was released at her trial yesterday on the promise that she would go and sin no more. The case created considerable interest. She gave bond in $100 cash and was present yesterday with a Lexington lawyer to defend her.

JIM MENEFFEE, captain of the Stanford Grafters ball team, has challenged Capt. Dick Kelly's Lebanon Enterprise team for a game to be played on the latter's ground Thursday, Aug. 10. The Grafters have been doing excellent work under the present management and, although Capt. Meneffee has been sojourning at Crab Orchard Springs and his team a little "off their feed," it is a certainty they will return with one more scalp on their belts.

Given Up To Die

B. Spiegel, 1294 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Penny's Drug Store.
